Dear Speaker Johnson and Democratic Leader Jeffries:

The Coalition for Sensible Safeguards (CSS) and the undersigned organizations strongly support the Stop Corporate Capture Act, H.R. 1507.

To tackle the pressing challenges we face as a nation, we must have a robust, responsive, and inclusive federal regulatory system. We do not have such a regulatory system today. Instead, after decades of neglect and underinvestment, our regulatory system is now rife with delay, unbridled corporate influence, inadequate transparency, and weak public accountability. With long overdue, common-sense reforms, the regulatory system would be better able to keep up with innovation and technological advances and do more to further social justice and equity.

The Stop Corporate Capture Act is needed now more than ever in the wake of the disastrous decision by the Supreme Court to overturn the long-standing legal precedent of Chevron deference. Congress must act to codify Chevron deference into law in order to prevent any fallout from this Supreme Court decision. The decision undermines the ability of government agencies to do their job – that Congress gave them – to protect the public. If Congress does not act, many of the harms that Chevron deference intended to prevent, such as ensuring that unelected judges defer to agency experts and civil servants instead of substituting their own policy views when reviewing important regulatory safeguards, are likely to occur. Making Chevron deference the law of the land is critical to restoring separation of powers and stopping the judiciary from usurping power that Congress delegated to agencies that protect the public.

The Stop Corporate Capture Act offers the necessary comprehensive blueprint for modernizing, improving, and strengthening the regulatory system to protect the public from harm more effectively. It would level the playing field for all members of the public to have their views accounted for in regulatory decisions that affect them; promote scientific integrity; and restore our government's ability to deliver results for workers, consumers, public health, and the environment.

Among the essential reforms this bill would introduce are the following:

Restore Scientific Integrity and Independent Expertise

The Stop Corporate Capture Act codifies Chevron deference, the long-standing legal principle that prevents judges from allowing their political preferences to influence their decisions in cases involving regulations. Chevron deference requires courts to defer to government agencies that Congress empowered to protect the public when an agency's interpretation of an ambiguous statute is reasonable. This makes sense, as agencies are the independent, subject-matter experts. The Act also requires anyone submitting scientific or other technical research to agencies during the rulemaking process to disclose any potential conflicts of interest the research may raise. In addition, a provision of the Act bars the White House from unreasonably delaying essential safeguards by empowering agencies to resume work if the regulatory review process fails to conclude after 60 days. Importantly, the Act authorizes agencies to quickly reinstate any rules that were rescinded through the Congressional Review Act (CRA).

End Unbridled Corporate Influence

The Stop Corporate Capture Act brings transparency to the “black box” of the White House regulatory review process, which has become a focal point for corporate lobbying. The Act accomplishes this by requiring disclosure of changes and the sources of those changes to draft rules during that process. Furthermore, the Act makes it a federal crime for corporations to submit false information in order to influence regulators during the rulemaking process.

Prioritize Social Justice and Equity

The Stop Corporate Capture Act creates an Office of the Public Advocate, charged with promoting agencies’ public engagement practices and helping members of the public to participate more effectively in regulatory proceedings, especially people from structurally marginalized communities. The Office of the Public Advocate will research the social equity impacts of the regulatory process and perform social equity assessments of pending rules when requested by the public. The Act also strengthens agency procedures for notifying the public, particularly members of structurally marginalized communities and individuals who speak languages other than English, about pending rulemakings.

Congress must pass the Stop Corporate Capture Act to enact critical and long overdue reforms to our nation’s regulatory process that work for the public interest and restore judicial review of regulations by codifying Chevron deference. We once again urge you to support this necessary and groundbreaking bill.

Thank you for your attention to this important matter.

Sincerely,
